

How To Use CFRC's Remote Access Music Library

1. Go to quickconnect.to/cfrc-library
2. Enter Username and Password provided
If you do not have a username or password, email the CFRC Music Coordinator at this email: music@cfrc.ca
3. You will now have access to the Remote Access Music Library
4. The folders indicate different ways in which the same music library is sorted, so you are able to find music based on many different specifications (by genre, by year, by country, local music, etc.)
5. Double click a file in order to play it, or right click a folder and select Play All to listen to a full album
6. Once you have made your selection for your program, you can download the song of your choice by right clicking and selecting the download option

This system has fail-safes to ensure that volunteers cannot manipulate the folder structure by accident - such as being unable to delete files or move files.

All music in our system is also sonically watermarked so any re-uploaded or "leaked" audio from our library can be traced.

Unauthorized use of the library is strictly prohibited, you are only authorized to use it for programs on CFRC 101.9fm. If you are found to be breaking this agreement you will be blocked from future access.
